REFORMS IN THE CUSTOMS SERVICE.

Mr. FENTON presented a memorial from importers and merchants of New York city, asking for reforms in the customs revenue service, to effect which object they ask the passage of Senator Francy's bill in reference to fines, penalties and other forfeitures. Mr. FENTON said he had offered his bill more than two years ago, which he had prepared after consultation with Secretary Boutwell and other Treasury officers, and with persons familiar with the Government service. His bill proposed to equalize the compensation of customs officers, so that some of them shall not, as now, receive $75,000 per annum. It also dispenses with the system of waiters, that great bane of the service, which was a fruitful cause of inquities and frauds on the part of customs officers. He then referred to the fact that when he had two years ago pressed this bill he had been met by the chairman of the Committee on Retrunchment [Mr. Buckingwam] with the statement that that committee was considering the subject. Nothing was done with it, and at the next season, when he again brought the bill forward, it was referred to the Committee on Commerce, and again nothing was done with it. At the beginning of this session it was again referred to the Committee on Committee to either report the bill or a better one, so that the crying abuses complained of might be remedied.

Mr. HUCKINGHAM said the Retrenchment Committee had worked faithfully and diligently, and it was no fault of the committee that the bill was not passed at the session referred to.

To H. G. Chapman, esq., President New York Stock Exchange:

I have just learned that an announcement has been made in the Stock Exchange that the directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company have recently voted to increase their capital stock to $60,000,000. The announcement has no foundation in fact. No meeting of the directors has been held for several months, nor has as increase of the capital stock of the company been a subject of consideration at any meeting of the executive committee.

Bespectfully, Wm. Onvon, President, As soon as these official denials were made public at the board there was a rush to buy back the stock sold on the forged letters. The decline was nearly all recovered, but in the final dealings the market was feverish and unsettled, with a downward reaction. Detectives are aircady on the track of the perpetuators of these forgeries, and

CARNIVAL AT NEW ORLEANS.

The banks were closed, and there were no markets. The carnival procession was unique. The king and several hundred attendants were Orientally arrayed with helmets and harness of gold and steel. The Persian command of infantry and artillery, King Boabdil and his escort, made a grand display. The Mystic Crewe's procession at night was an extensive affair. There were envoys to the Court of Comus from the Old and the New World, and twenty-three cars, containing ninety-five figures typical of various countries. The streets along the line of the procession were crowded with spectators. The weather was warm and sloudy all day, but there was an rain.

Affar the Mystic Crewe's procession King Boabdil and the Shah left the St. Charles' hotel with a body-guard of 16 mail-clad warriors and potentales, in palanquins berne by Moorish slawe, and visited the King's Own and the Mystic Crewe ball, and went thence to Exposition hall, where a grand recention was held. The city has gone about 12,000 for Stokely. The Democrats generally supported McClure, but in some wards, probably in the Fourth and Eleventh, they cut him. Both wards did not give him 400 each, whereas the McClure party thought that each ward would give at least 500. The Tenth ward gave Stokely 1,000 majority.

There was a great deal of scratching on the ward tickets, the Republicans refusing to indorse some of their nominees.

In the Fifteenth ward two ladies were running for school directors, but they were defeated.

The friends of Stokley are parading through the city to-night in high giee.
